29	55 years of life experience and an inquisitive super active mind God gave me. 6 years in the Air Force opened my eyes to a lot. Always asking questions and reading. Question everything especially if you hear it repeatedly, Lie long enough it becomes the truth? I don't think so. Look what is going on in the world. How can anyone say this is not all planned? Unless of course you are an atheist, evolutionist. Study Darwin. He had a degree in theology but turned against God because of vents in his life. Look at the latest comet impact and they still stick to them being dirty snowballs. I asked my Astronomy professor if he believed in God years ago. He was afraid to say yes! But he did say there was way too much order in the universe to be coincidence.	Dec 28, 2009 5:19 AM
